Chariton Courier TFACT

KETTESVILLE, . . MISSOUHI

Now that the coal strike seems materialized we hope the weather clerk will take a hand and give us balmier breezes.

In this day of graft and greed and political corruption an honest man is becoming a real curiosity. Alexander Pope uttered a great truth when he said: "An honest man's the noblest work of God."

THE conclusive proof of such large contributions by life insurance companies and other great corporations to the national Republican campaign funds leaves no sane man to doubt that the Republican party is completely under the control of such corrupting influences, and that it is bought and paid for with a price to do the bidding of its masters. The Republican party is as utterly in slavery to the monied interests of this country as the negro was to his owner before the civil war that gave him his freedom.

THE board of curators of the university of Missouri has set aside Saturday, May 5, as high school day. The purpose of this day is to allow the high school students of the state to come to the university to celebrate this day in athletics and debating contests. The chief features will be the third annual interscholastic track and field meet, an interscholastic baseball game and debating and essay contests, between representatives of the various high schools of the state. At the second interscholastic track and field meet, which was held at Columbia May 6, 1905, there were over 130 boys contesting in athletic exercises. Present indications are that there will be at least 250 entered in the contests this year. Appropriate medals will be given to winners of individual events and banners and loving cups to winners of relay race and of the meet, respectively. The debating and essay contests will be held for the first sime. The board of curators has established a scholarship of $125 which shall be given to the winner of this contest, entitling such contestant to the amount of money stated and exempting him from all fees payable to the university, except laboratory fees. The contest is attracting a great deal of attention in the high schools and large number of contestants have already entered their names. Al the railroads running into Columbia are making a one-fare rate and special excursion trains will be run from numerous places over the state. The occasion promises to be the biggest athletic celebration of its sort held in the state during the year.

We call especial attention to the hinge joint at each intersection of stay with main bars.

This is the essential of every good wire fence. Unless the stay has a hinge joint the fence cannot receive pressure from contact and right itself. All rigid stay fences have been unsatisfactory and disappointing, as they crush down and when once down, remain so,

Is made with a hinge joint, by which the maximum of elasticity is secured and the fence if properly stretched, remains in place indefinitely. With the hinge joint, no amount of strain on the bars can effect the connection of stay and bar, while the opposite is true of all rigid stay fences.
